

On September 24, 2011, the International Dutch Hickory Open will be held for the second time on the historical heather golf course Ullerberg, Ermelo, Netherlands.

View from the tee of the 6th hole.

On this unique 9-hole course, participants from all over the world will battle for the Waller trophy in an 18-hole stroke

Almost dreamlike images of the twenties.

play. The course will be played with original hickory clubs and participants will be dressed in a style that reflects the twenties. The public can follow the flights for an unforgettable experience of how golf was played in those days. Defending champions are Perry Somers (Australia) en Britta Nord (Sweden).

Ladies-winner to be Britta Nord hits off at hole 3.

The International Dutch Open is open for anybody who can play golf and wants to participate in an international championship. The only condition is that the match has to be played with original hickory clubs. A set can be rented for the day at the course.

During the championship, the golf course and the surrounding estate are open to the public. On the website at www.ullerberg.nl/idho2011 participants and visitors can register for the event and more information can be found.

Contact:

Eveline Borremans +31 (0)6 2237 2880

Bob Hesselmann +31 (0)6 4268 3268

idho@ullerberg.nl

www.ullerberg.nl/IDHO2011

Landgoed de Ullerberg
Jhr. Dr. C.J. Sandbergweg 103
Leuvenum (Ermelo)

